DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 1 recites the broad recitation "a data interface", and the claim also recites "especially a data transmitter" which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation. Further, the use of

Art Unit: 3751

"especially" throughout claim 1 renders the claim indefinite and should be deleted from the claim.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the front housing part" and "the rear housing part" in lines 2 and 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Phillips.

In regard to claims 1 and 3, the Phillips reference discloses a "connection coupling" 68 comprising a "sliding sleeve" 44 wherein a data interface is arranged thereon. The sliding occurs when the nozzle is twisted in the fuel pipe.

In regard to claim 2, see "data transmitter" 52 in Figure 1 and column 3, lines 40-44.

In regard to claims 4 and 5, inasmuch structure that is defined by "data line", shielded cable 50 meets the claimed limitation.

In regard to claim 6, "data transmitter" 52 is provided with a "ring-like configuration" 44 as seen in Figure 1.

In regard to claim 7, the method of forming the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.

In regard to claim 8, Figure 8 shows "housing" 688 to protect the data transmitter in that embodiment.

In regard to claim 9, the "data transmitter" receives and transmits information as defined by a "transponder".

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited prior art of record pertains to various fuel nozzles having similar structure to that of the Applicant's device.
